Allfarm Salt Bush PECK BLOCK

Allfarm Salt Bush Peck Block – poultry feed supplement targeting post-peak layers and eggs.

Allfarm Salt Bush Peck Block feed supplements contain Australian salt bush (Atriplex nummularia), apple pomace, grains and vitamins. The formulation supports laying birds of all ages and is especially beneficial to older / post-peak layers. The block format is convenient to handle and distribute around a pen or shed, so that the number you provide can be easily controlled and monitored.

Allfarm Salt Bush Peck Blocks may be used at any time. The delicious muesli smell encourages birds to consume the ingredients, which go into making healthier birds and better eggs. The Australian salt bush promotes egg colour, flavour, and stronger egg shells¹. The added protein, molasses, vitamins and trace elements help boost bird health and performance. This product is also recommended if gizzard health is a crucial issue. The paraffin wax used in its formulation helps break down impaction balls which affect gizzard function and block nutrient passage to the small intestine.

Ingredients: Apple pomace, grain mix, molasses, salt bush (Atriplex nummularia) flour, paraffin wax, Vitamin A, Vitamin B1, Vitamin B2, Vitamin B6, Vitamin B12, Vitamin C, Vitamin D3, Vitamin E, Vitamin K, Niacin, Pantothenic Acid, Biotin, Iodine, Choline, Folate, Phosphorus, Cobalt, Zinc, Manganese, Magnesium, Copper, Iron, Selenium, Lysine, Methionine.

Directions:

- Use daily for optimum results.
- Supplement birds with one block per 10-15 birds.
- This may be increased if birds are in a period of high stress, when extra protein, vitamins and energy are essential for bird maintenance.
- Place blocks in a dry area, on a saucer or lid to catch crumbs. Ensure every bird gets access.
- Monitor the birds and provide more blocks if they are consumed within a few hours, as rapid ingestion indicates birds are feeling nutrient-deprived.

Storage: Store below 30°C, away from direct sunlight.

Shelf life: Check the packaging for the expiry date.
